

Asks Power to Deal With Labor Strikes

By NORMAN WALKER
Emergency Strikes Bif

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential advisory panel has recommended giving government more power to deal with national emergency labor strikes.

For one thing, the President would have the authority to halt such strikes for an 80 day cooling off period without obtaining court injunctions. Fact-finding groups appointed by the President would be empowered to suggest settlement terms.

These were the major recommendations in a report handed President Kennedy Tuesday night by his labor-management advisers. If enacted by Congress they would upend provisions of the 15 year old Taft-Hartley Law.

The advisory group—made up of seven representatives each from industry, labor unions and the public—called for broad revision of Taft-Hartley law procedures for handling big strikes that threaten the nation's health or safety.

Among the committee members only one industry man, automaker Henry Ford II, dissented from the proposed emergency strike changes. Ford said the present law has worked remarkably well and it would be both unjustified and unwise to give fact-finding boards power to recommend labor dispute settlement terms.

Such industry men as Chairman Joseph L. Block of Inland Steel and John M. Franklin of U.S. Lines and Presidents Richard S. Reynolds Jr. of Reynolds Metals and Thomas S. Watson of International Business Machines Corp. went along with the plan for overhauling big strike procedures. Highlights of the report:

1. Emergency dispute boards named by the President not only could recommend settlement terms, they could also call for interim changes in pay and working conditions pending ultimate settlement.

2. There would be a legal obligation to follow presidential stay-at-work orders for 80-day cooling off periods—without court injunctions as now. This adopts the long-time voluntary compliance procedures contained in the separate Railway Labor Act dealing with rail and airline disputes.

3. The emergency procedures could be applied to only part of an industry, if that were practicable. In the past the law has been invoked generally over entire industries.

4. The present procedure of submitting an employer's final offer to employees for their approval would be eliminated as ineffective. Workers have never voted acceptance of such an offer. Ford agreed with this.

Although many businessmen, following the government's role in the recent steel wage and price controversy, have criticized federal intervention in such matters, the advisory committee said a broader government role in emergency-type bargaining situations is necessary.

2 Negroes Set to Leave, Group Claims

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — With claims that it already has applications from residents in two Arkansas cities, the Capital Citizens Council board of directors voted Tuesday night to organize Freedom Rides North for Negroes.

The Council said a "Freedom Flight" would be organized to Hyannis Port, Mass., the summer home of President John F. Kennedy and later bus and train rides to destinations of the applicants' choice would be offered.

The action came during a closed meeting of the board at which George Singleman of the New Orleans Citizens Council, appeared. Singleman has been instrumental in the organization of bus rides from that city and is currently on a speaking tour in behalf of the movement.

He was to go from Little Rock to Shreveport, La. today.

Amis Guthridge, president of the Council here, said dates for the rides would be contingent on the availability of funds. He said applications have already been received from Altheimer and England. The decision to organize the rides was announced to newsmen in a statement released after the meeting.

Guthridge said only Negroes may make the trip and that those who apply will be asked only their names, addresses and where they want to go.

He said the council would provide the trips, "in a spirit of benevolence and humanitarianism."

Stamps Worker Badly Burned

STAMPS, Ark. (AP) — Coy Langley, 54-year-old welder at the Olin Mathieson plant here, was in critical condition in the Lafayette County hospital here today after suffering burns over 50 per cent of his body when he fell into a pool of molten sulphur Tuesday.

Oris Taylor, plant superintendent, said Langley was repairing steam coils used to heat the sulphur when he stepped onto what he thought was a solid mass of the material. Taylor said Langley stepped onto a thin shell covering the molten sulphur.

Langley was rescued by fellow workers after he pulled himself partially from the pool and called for help, Taylor said.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today exploded its third nuclear device in the planned series of tests in the atmosphere. The shot was in the vicinity of Christmas Island in the Pacific as were the two earlier ones.

The Defense Department and the Atomic Energy Commission announced a device "in the low megaton yield range"—meaning the blast equivalent of more than one million tons from an airplane dropped from an altitude.

Thus, this third shot in the test series was heavier than the two previous ones which were in a range of between 100,000 and 500,000 tons of TNT.

Rioters in Lisbon Under Control

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Police patrolled the streets of Portugal's two biggest cities today as the cleanup began after May Day clashes in which at least one man was killed and 50 persons were injured.

Club-swinging police and troops crushed the outbursts in Lisbon and Oporto Tuesday and arrested scores of anti-government demonstrators. Scattered violence continued through the night.

An official of a first aid post near the scene of Lisbon's fighting said one demonstrator was brought in dead from a gunshot wound in the head. Police said at least 42 other persons, including two policemen, were hospitalized with injuries.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Republican party got a second candidate for governor today—William Harold Sadler, a Little Rock businessman. And Dr. Kenneth Jones of Little Rock filed as a GOP candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Sadler said he is in his early 50s.

He is a former automobile dealer, now a businessman, who has never held political office.

Lahroy Spates Files for Tax Assessor

Lahroy Spates, native of Hempstead County and widely known as a salesman and florist, filed this morning as a Democratic candidate for Hempstead County Tax Assessor.

Mr. Spates for 12 years was a salesman for Plunkett-Jarrell Grocery Co., and for 10 years owned and operated the Ward Four Grocery Store. Currently he and Mrs. Spates operate Spates Florist at 308 S. Spruce St. They have one son, Jack.

Mr. Spates is a member of Hope Lions Club, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and American Legion.

He said: "This is my first venture for public office. I feel I am fully qualified to serve you as Tax Assessor, and promise you if elected I will serve to the best of my ability."

Family Role Changes, HD Groups Find

Fast-changing living patterns, family roles and family relationships in the home and community face Arkansas homemakers in increasing number each day. A salute to these homemakers and their families is being offered during Arkansas Home Demonstration Week, April 29-May 5.

Educational services to meet these homemakers' problems are in growing demand and fill an important widespread need, also. Mrs. Hazel Jordan, state H. D. agent, describes the work of home demonstration clubs as "a continuing adult education program in better homemaking."

In Arkansas, there are 31,000 plus HD members participating in organized learning groups which have their own volunteer leaders. Other Arkansas homemakers enroll in special interest workshops, attend series of meetings, enter into discussions, watch demonstrations, read bulletins, hear extension radio programs, and so on.

In the organized groups, the volunteer leaders help plan and carry on the HD program. They are the teachers named by homemakers themselves from their own ranks. All are trained and assisted by HD agents, the home economists of the Cooperative Extension Service. HD agents, besides their work with groups, assist many other homemakers through workshops, demonstrations, tours, publications and the like. In addition, they visit families to advise on individual plans and problems, appear on radio and television programs and write educational articles for newspapers.

Stressed in family living programs this year are educational services in planning and managing family resources in good health, human relations, and safety; and in consumer information on foods, clothing and equipment.

Secretary of Army Quits for College Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Army Elvis J. Stahr Jr. has resigned, effective June 30, to accept the presidency of Indiana University.

President Kennedy accepted Stahr's resignation today "with regret and reluctance."

Stahr takes over the university office July 1, succeeding Dr. Herman B. Wells, who has been president for 25 years.

The shift had been announced in advance of the word from the White House by William Hickman, president of the university board of trustees.

An exchange of letters between Stahr and President Kennedy was made public by the White House.

Stahr recalled in his letter, dated Tuesday, that he left the presidency of West Virginia University to become Army secretary "only because I shared your conviction about the need for our country to develop a much stronger Army in a time of prolonged and serious external threat to the basic values of peace, freedom and human dignity."

Stahr added: "The opportunity to lead one of America's great universities comes to few men even once in a lifetime. Yet, even now that I have been invited to lead one of the greatest, I would be reluctant to ask you to release me after a year and a half as your Army secretary were it not that the Army has moved during that period to a distinctly higher plateau and our basic objectives for it have now been clearly mapped and moved far along the road to accomplishment."

Kennedy's reply, dated today, said Stahr's "personal dedication to the task, and to the Army, has been an inspiration to the men and women of the United States Army."

Kennedy called Stahr's conduct of Army affairs an outstanding example of good management and said his policies of recognition of young talent, of examination and adoption of new doctrines and techniques, and emphasis on vigorous leadership for the Army "marks your tenure as Army secretary."

The White House did not name a successor but attention focused on Stephen Ailes, 50, now undersecretary of the Army.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Elvis J. Stahr Jr., educational administrator now serving as secretary of the Army, has been elected president of Indiana University. It was announced today.

He will take office July 1, succeeding Dr. Herman B. Wells, president of I. U. for 25 years. Announcement of the selection was made by William Hickman, president of the university trustees, on the 142nd anniversary of the founding of the university.

The resignation of Stahr as secretary of the Army, effective June 30, was announced at the same time at the White House in Washington.

Music Week Observance Is Planned

The 39th annual observance of National Music Week sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs will begin on May 6 under the local sponsorship of the Friday Music Club and The Troubadours.

The 13th Annual Music Festival will be given in the High School auditorium at 2 p.m. Sunday, May 6.

Mrs. B. C. Hyatt, the chairman, has announced that the theme "Music for Everyone" will be carried out by various singing groups who will present music for our leisure time, music for popular entertainment, music when we worship, music of yesterday and today, and music of all people.

A rhythm band directed by Mrs. V. R. Herndon Jr. will again be a feature of the festival. Choruses from the elementary, junior and senior high schools will be directed by Miss Phyllis Rankin.

The chorus group of the Friday Music Club will present a group of songs expressing the theme of world-wide brotherhood.

The program will close with a "Sing Along" feature which will enable everyone to join in singing a number of favorites in keeping with the theme of music week: "Let The World Rejoice With Music."

Two Last Minute Local Candidates File Fees

2 Republican Candidates File for Office

Two candidates have qualified to seek county office on the Republican ticket by paying their filing fee and signing their corrupt practice pledge.

G. D. "Buster" Royston, Jr. will seek the office of Hempstead County Representative, while C. H. Partin, a farmer in the Shover Springs community, will seek the office of Tax Assessor.

Haskell Jones, Hempstead county Republican chairman said "That long range plans had not called for entering candidates in local elections this year, however vigorous Republican activity over the entire state prompted the party to try for some offices. We are becoming convinced that more Arkansas are ready for the 2-party system and do believe in the Republican philosophy of less federal control, free enterprise, and a sound fiscal policy."

While local office holders may not subscribe to everything the national Democratic party stands for they are still identified with it and the Republican party seeks to elect their own to as many offices as possible from the local to national level."

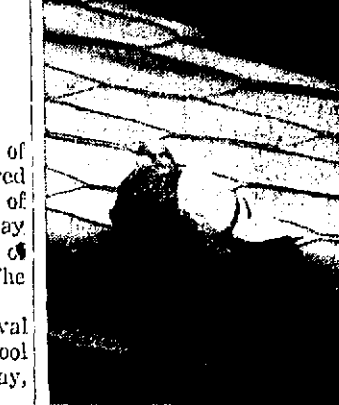

Of the two candidates who filed for county office, Buster Royston is the best known, having an illustrious great-grandfather who drafted the present Arkansas constitution. Buster says the Democratic party no longer adheres to the principles set forth by such people as his great-grandfather and he feels it is time for people to work and vote Republican.

Mr. Partin is a relatively new comer to the Hope area, having moved here from Texas a few years ago. His only pledge at the moment is to make certain that all property is assessed at its true value.

The Republican campaign will not start until after the Democratic primary and will be based on issues, rather than personalities.

Free Meals Hold Up Racing Bird

Perched on the roof of the Walter Locke house at 314 S. Shover St. is this homing pigeon who refuses to continue his flight homeward — whatever that direction may be.

The blue-and-gray bird perched on the Locke house Monday morning and went through the front door with Mr. Locke. Thereafter he made himself at home on the front porch with a bowl of birdseed, courtesy of Mrs. Locke — right cozy for a racer who was supposed to be on the high road home.

The Star's editor tried to photograph the pigeon on the porch Tuesday, but when the bird escaped to the roof the cameraman went back for a telephoto lens — and produced the above picture this morning.

One leg of the pigeon is banded with the number AU 61 — SFC 2236. The other leg is encircled with a number which apparently holds a message.

People Called, Faubus Says After Filing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus filed for a fifth term today, setting the stage for a precedent-making Democratic primary this summer.

Faubus said the fact that he was in good health and had support from the people caused him to change his mind about retiring from politics.

The governor's entry into the race swelled the field of candidates to six shortly before the Democratic ticket was scheduled to close at noon.

The campaign will pit Faubus against former Gov. Sid McMath, the man who introduced Faubus into state politics; Marvin Melfon, a Jonesboro farmer-businessman; Rep. Dale Alford, D-Ark.; Kenneth Coffelt, a Little Rock attorney; and Vernon Whitten, a Mount Holly businessman.

No incumbent has faced five opponents in Arkansas in recent history. If Faubus wins, he will become the first man ever to serve more than eight years as governor.

Immediately after he announced, Faubus filed his pledges and paid his fee to Leon Catlett, Democratic Party secretary.

Faubus' office was crowded with well-wishers and key members of his administration when he made the announcement. The governor appeared relaxed and in good spirits.

The governor had said March 31 that he would retire from politics at least temporarily to rest and write a book about his side of the Little Rock integration controversy.

Developments in the Democratic race came to a quick head in the closing hours before the filing deadline.

McMath, bitterly attacking the Faubus administration, announced for the office Tuesday night in a statewide television broadcast.

McMath filed and paid his $1,500 fee in cash today, a scant 40 minutes before the filing deadline. He said the money was contributed by "fisherman friends on Lake Norfolk." It was sent to Little Rock today, he added.

McMath filed in a downtown hotel, where the secretary of state traditionally moves filing headquarters on the morning the ticket closes.

Of the candidates, only McMath, Faubus and Alford have extensive political experience.

McMath gave Faubus a job in the governor's office and later named him to the Highway Commission. Faubus served as highway director in the waning days of the McMath administration.

McMath was governor from 1949 through 1952, when he was defeated by Francis Cherry.

McMath and Faubus broke openly during the 1957 Little Rock integration crisis when McMath criticized Faubus for using National Guard troops to block integration.

Hurley Opposes Nathan Gordon

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Wallace Hurley, Camden printing firm executive, filed today as a candidate for lieutenant governor, opposing incumbent Nathan Gordon.

Hurley had indicated he would run for governor. He called a news conference more than a month ago and said he had reserved campaign headquarters, but he had been virtually silent on his plans since then.

Hurley and Gordon are the only men in the race.

Law Day Is Discussed to Kiwanians

Municipal Judge John L. Wilson was the featured speaker before the Hope Kiwanis Club luncheon meeting Tuesday and brought an address on the third anniversary of "Law Day."

"The American Bar Association set May 1 for this observance in order to show a contrast between Communism and the Democratic form of government," Judge Wilson pointed out.

The speaker went back to the laws of Moses and the 10 Commandments and then traced the history of law down to the present complex society in which many laws are on the books—but still basically an off-spring of the "Laws of Moses."

He pointed to the Bill of Rights and our four great freedoms which have enabled the western world to achieve the highest standards of living ever dreamed of and to cash in on opportunities under these laws and freedoms that no other countries possess.

He brought his speech to a close, however, with a warning that our lives, and our freedoms were being threatened by the spread of communism and urged that Americans be constantly on the alert in order to continue to live under the Stars and Stripes instead of the Red Star.

Club guests were Dr. George Ballentine and Scrubb Mosier.

The straight and narrow path wouldn't be so narrow if more people would use it.

Former Gov. in Lead in Oklahoma

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Former Gov. Raymond Gary held the lead today in Oklahoma's Democratic gubernatorial primary. Another former governor seeking to return to public life—James E. Folsom—was trailing in Alabama.

In Tuesday's primary election
Gary easily made it into the May 22 runoff in his bid to be Oklahoma's first two-term governor.
The name of his Democratic opponent three weeks hence was still a question mark. Four candidates were grouped close together, but the choice appeared to be W. P. Bill Atkinson. The rest of the field of 12 was far behind.

In Alabama two less widely known candidates, whose main campaign difference was over how best to maintain racial segregation in that state, were locked in a seesaw race well ahead of Folsom who was bidding for an unprecedented third term.

Democratic voters in both states nominated incumbent U.S. senators for new terms. Sen. Mike Monroney handily won nomination for a third term in Oklahoma.
Sen. Lister Hill beat two opponents to win the nod for a seventh term in Alabama.

With two-thirds of Alabama's 3,600 precincts counted, former state Judge George A. Wallace, runnerup four years ago, had 134,885 votes and young state Sen.
Ryan deGraffenried had 119,218.
Folsom had tallied 100,598 followed by state Atty. Gen. MacDonald Gallion with 56,633 and three other candidates were far behind.

The two leaders will battle it out in Alabama's May 29 runoff.
In Oklahoma, with more than half the state's 3,100 precincts counted, Gary had 150,959 votes.
He was followed by Atkinson, a millionaire builder, with 79,796;
Lt. Gov. George Nigh with 75,373; former American Legion national commander Preston Moore with 72,555, and state Sen. Fred Harris with 71,464.

The Republican nominee in Alabama, where Democratic nomination is equivalent to election, has not been named yet, but Julian Elgin of Montgomery, who ran for the Senate in 1960, has announced his candidacy.

The Democratic nominee in Oklahoma could face a tough challenge from Henry Bellmon, wheat farmer and former state Republican chairman who easily won nomination against token opposition. He is expected to make a strong bid to be Oklahoma's first Republican governor.

Faubus said today "I'm sure someone will mention McMath's stand on integration during the coming campaign."

Faubus said his filing fee was raised by 15 Harrison businessmen for the third time in a row.
He said he would find use for $1,500 raised by residents of his home town of Huntsville to pay the fee, but the Harrison money had been put together two or three months ago.

Faubus said he wanted to continue as governor so he could "help complete a building program started last year, continue the improvement of educational programs and programs for the old and unfortunate people."

He pledged himself to continued independent status of the Highway Commission. "I would not want to see any of these programs or agencies revert to the status in which they were found a few years ago," he said.

Faubus said his latest poll of voting strength showed him 20 per cent higher than the total of three leading opposition candidates. He declined to identify these candidates.

Faubus was quoted last week as saying a poll showed he would get 52 per cent of the vote.

McMath has not campaigned since 1954, when he lost a close race against Sen. John L. McClelland, D-Ark. He has been practicing law in Little Rock.

Cherry defeated a third term bid by McMath in 1952, then Faubus beat Cherry in 1954.

JFK Meets With AMA Officials

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and the high command of the American Medical Association met today on the issue of medical care for the aged and made no headway whatsoever toward an agreement or compromise.

The only agreement was that there was disagreement, and this was emphasized both by the head of the organization of doctors, Dr. Leonard W. Larson, and Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff.

A seven-man delegation of top officials of the AMA spent some time less than an hour with Kennedy.

Larson said afterward that various medical and health problems were brought up, some by them, some by the chief executive.

Larson reported that Kennedy spoke up for the administration program of caring for the elderly through the Social Security system. And Dr. Edward R. Annis, chairman of the AMA Speakers Bureau, presented the IMA case in opposition.

No, Larson reported, there was no switch in positions on either side, nothing in the way of a compromise suggested or reached, and no evidence of the opening up of what a reporter called an avenue of accommodation of opposing views.

Ribicoff, who sat in on the meeting, went along with this diagnosis.

And he cleared up one thing, that the meeting between the chief executive and the AMA delegation was at Kennedy's initiative.

"The President," Ribicoff said, "indicated to the AMA that all responsible groups have a right to come in and talk with the President, whether they agree or disagree with him."

The secretary said that Kennedy left no doubt that he expects the King-Anderson bill, embracing the administration medical care program, to win out in Congress.

J. Whitman were second and Mrs. E. P. Young Jr. and Mrs. Harry Hawthorne were third.

Another Soviet Flight Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The top Soviet space scientist indicated today that the U.S.S.R. will launch additional manned space flights before the end of this year and also launch its first known meteorological satellite.

A. A. Blagomirav of the Soviet Academy of Sciences spoke of this at a meeting of space scientists from 18 countries.

Discussing Soviet plans for 1962, he declared that a series of launches of artificial earth satellites would take place during the remainder of 1962.

In discussing the scientific investigations to be made by these satellites, the scientist said at one point that medical and biological investigations will be continued during the next manned flight.

Army Wife Seeks Antidote for "Blue" Hours

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKIN

Dear Helen: I am one of a million wives who are married to servicemen stationed in another country. My wonderful husband and I have been apart 19 months. Twenty-four days after we were married he was sent to the Panama Canal Zone. Because of Army regulations and lack of money I'm forced to remain behind. If all goes well he should be home in another four and a half months.

The past 19 months have been just plain, deep, indigo blue for me. Try as I will to keep busy, the free hours still hang heavy. My job fills eight hours of the day. After that I either baby-sit, visit relatives, or watch TV, all of which bores me. As I say, I'm only one of a million or so service men's wives confronted with the same problem. What can we do in our spare time? Our husbands have U. S. O. clubs. Is there no place for their wives to go where they could get together, talk and have good, clean fun? Maybe bowling, or skating is the answer. Have you any suggestions as to what we could do to kill the Blues that take over in our spare time?—Waiting Army Wife

Dear Waiting: The greatest pleasure in life is helping others. Chase away the blues by finding out what you can do for other Army wives in the same boat. Obtain a list of those in your town through the local recruiting office.

Once you have the list, round up the girls, either by telephone or personal visits. Organize, not alone for amusement, but with a purpose. Ask the Mayor how you, as a group, can help in community projects.

Maybe your community needs cleaning up. The women of Gary, Ind., did a noteworthy job along that line. Litterbugs may be driving the street cleaning department of your town crazy. Part-time practical nursing could be another project. A charity which requires personal attention—like "adopting" a family in need, is a cure for loneliness.

A make-your-own clothes project is an outlet for your creative talents, as well as a money-saver. You wives could help one another in cutting patterns, fitting and getting skirt lengths. You might even try for prizes in national sewing contests. In other words, put your leisure hours to constructive use, and in the doing, make your husbands as proud of you, as you are of them.

Dear Helen: I hope this letter will give you a hint of what I live through each day. Our family hates each other and themselves. My mother and father are in their forties; my sister 21, I am 19 and my two brothers 13 and 10. Everybody except me is on the war path. They cuss, shout, scream and yell and seem bent on killing somebody—even themselves. Mom and I do all the housework and outside chores. Nobody ever says thank you.

Yet if I leave home they all get mad. I did go to Milwaukee for nine and a half months and after that Michigan for six months. Had good jobs in both places. Then my family persuaded me to come home. What a travesty on a name. All I hear around this house is, "I'll beat you up," or "I'll kill you." When I say what they need is a little more of the Christian spirit, or urge them to go to church, they call me a psalm singer and church-crazy. Was there ever a family like mine?—P.

Dear P.: Yes. Some families enjoy fighting. If you don't, issue an ultimatum. Tell your family it's got to be peace or you leave. If you can't reform them, move on. They'll respect you all the more for your independence. Take this as fate showing you out into the stream of life. You kept afloat away from home once, you can do it again.

Dear Helen: I am 11 years old and madly in love with a boy who doesn't know how I feel. Every time I see him I burst out crying. Does crying really mean that people are in love a lot?—MM

Dear M.: No. Your tears have nothing to do with love, nor with any one boy. They simply mean that you are entering upon adolescence a bit prematurely. Ask your mother to explain these moods to you. The family doctor might help too. At any rate, the fits of crying are nothing to be alarmed about.

Cento Drops Plan to Unify Armed Forces

By ARTHUR GAYSHON
LONDON (AP)—Nations of the Central Treaty Organization (CENTO) shelved today plans to unify their military activities under a single commander.

This move, reported by Pakistani and British officials, ended for the time being a year-long dispute within the alliance. It was one of the main issues facing CENTO's ministerial council, which winds up a two-day conference tonight.

Pakistan, with the backing of Turkey and Iran, wanted an American to become the alliance commander for two main reasons.

The Pakistanis wanted, first, to tie the United States more closely to CENTO than it now is as an associate member.

Secondly they hoped it would begin the buildup of a complex command system, on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization model in the Middle East.

Britain, with American support, nominated one of her own men, Gen. Sir Charles Jones, for the job.

Both Western powers opposed the idea of trying to transform CENTO into a carbon copy of NATO. Each felt it might be politically perilous to activate CENTO in a way that could anger neutralist as well as Communist opinion.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home participated in today's council discussion, which concerned the scope of Communist penetration in Middle East countries.

State Marine Unit

WASHINGTON (AP)—A reserve rifle company in Fort Smith, Ark., is among several Marine units slated to be deactivated, the Marine Corps announced Monday. The deactivation is a part of a reorganization program geared toward formation of a new division for emergency use.

Notice to Be Given Before Firing Tests

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will give the world's scientists about four days' notice before firing three missile borne nuclear test devices over the Pacific in June or July.

The Pentagon said Monday advance word of the three blasts will be given so that geophysicists and other scientists can make measurements of interest to the scientific community.

Atmospheric effects of the high-altitude blasts could include auroral displays resembling the northern lights over the South Seas and interference with Pacific radio communications over a wide area.

Similar temporary effects followed a 1958 blast over Johnston Island. It produced a spectacular auroral display above Samoa, about 2,000 miles south of the test site, and interfered temporarily with high-frequency radio communications over an area extending 2,000 miles.

"Distortion of the earth's magnetic field by atomic particles from the test explosion was blamed for the side effects.

The Pentagon spokesman said two of the high-altitude blasts in the Johnston Island area will be equivalent to fewer than a million tons of TNT.

He said one of these shots will be at an altitude measured in tens of kilometers, the other at hundreds of kilometers. A kilometer is five-eighths of a mile.

The third shot will be in the megaton-yield range, and will be fired at hundreds of kilometers, the spokesman said.

Shipping and air traffic was banned from the Johnston Island test area Monday.

While the Pentagon announced some details of the planned high-altitude test shots, the United States told Japan the Pacific tests would end immediately if the Soviet Union changes its previous position and now concludes a test ban treaty.

Japan, which has protested resumption of nuclear tests in the atmosphere by the United States, charged the Johnston traffic ban is illegal. But the United States replied that use of the high seas and international air space for military exercises of all types is traditional and not unreasonable.

Senate Republicans try today to patch together a measure of party unity on an issue some of them think may be telling in the November elections—medical care for the elderly.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said in advance of a scheduled party conference he hopes some consensus can be reached on the party's position. He pointed out that no individual member will be bound by the discussions.

President Kennedy is bearing down on House leaders for action in that body on a bill now tied up in its Ways and Means Committee to finance medical care for those over 6 through Social Security taxes.

If there existed any hope that Kennedy could reach a compromise which would remove the powerful opposition of the American Medical Association to this proposal, it went down the drain at a White House conference Tuesday.

After a seven-member AMA delegation spent about an hour with Kennedy, Dr. Leonard W. Larson, head of the group, and Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Abraham Ribicoff said there was no change in positions.

This left the Republicans in something of a quandary. Many of them dislike voting for a proposal the AMA has tabbed as "socialized medicine." But few of them want to be put in a position where they can be accused by election opponents of ignoring the needs of older voters.

One For My Dame By JACK WEBB

Published by Newspaper Enterprise Ass. Copyright © 1961 by Jack Webb

THE STORY: Rick Jackson has just learned that the young woman he met the previous evening is a Congressman's daughter and now she is missing.

CHAPTER 3
I went back to the account in the paper. Miss Carla DiMucci, 28, only daughter of the widowed Congressman Carl (Carlo Mio) DiMucci, 34th Congressional District, had left their Glen Canyon home, Roma Vista, midafternoon for the express purpose of shopping in Beverly Hills. He had been aware of a political dinner which she was to attend with her father at the Beverly Hilton that evening and had promised to return early between 2:30 and 3 o'clock she had become separated from her shopping companion, a Miss Martha Menken, while they were on the second floor of Robertson's Beverly Hills, and had not been seen since.

There was a great deal more about the Congressman's active participation in committee investigations of syndicated crime. The kidnapping theory, however, and the queries directed to the FBI seemed to be bringing a hot story to an early boil. The news of Carla's disappearance had come from the Congressman's secretary, calling the police to initiate a check of hospitals, traffic accidents, and such.

"Well," Cavanaugh demanded impatiently, "what are you going to do?"

"I don't know," I said soberly. "She went to sleep in my car. I took her upstairs. She was up there about an hour, maybe an hour and a half. No funny stuff. I fed her milk. When she left she asked me to call her a cab. I did, and Wolf and I took her down and put her in it. I thought she was going home."

"Sure," Cavanaugh grinned, "sure, old man. Fed her milk, eh? So what are you going to do?"

"Feed the fish," I told him. "So long, sport," Cavanaugh called after me. He slammed the door of Pets Preferred and did the same when he got inside the H.M. Custom Shoppe.

O'Dell Hurls Giants to Win Over Pirates

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sensational? Phenomenal? Spectacular?

Take your pick—or use your own word—but make it on the super side for the pitching job being turned in by the San Francisco Giants' stingy staff.

Billy O'Dell added to the amazing record compiled by the San Francisco mound crew when he beat Pittsburgh 4-2 Tuesday night and ran the National League leaders' winning streak to seven games by becoming the fifth hurler in succession to go the distance.

In those five games against Juan Marichal, Jack Sanford, Billy Pierce, Gaylord Perry and O'Dell, opposing Chicago and Pittsburgh batters have been able to score only five runs. For that span the Giants earned run average is an astonishing 1.13.

At Dark's workmen have completed 10 of their 21 starts. Not one opposing pitcher has managed to last the full nine innings.

At Los Angeles, Doug Camilli's timely, run-producing single in the last of the 6th gave the Dodgers a decision over the Chicago Cubs. St. Louis bopped Houston 6-4 and Cincinnati walloped the New York Mets 8-2. Milwaukee and Philadelphia were idled by cold and wet grounds.

In the American League, the New York Yankees whipped Chicago's White Sox 6-1. Detroit beat Kansas City 3-2 in 10 innings. Washington nipped Boston 2-1. Los Angeles Angels defeated Cleveland 8-6 and Minnesota beat Baltimore 8-3.

O'Dell ran his record to 3-0, scattering nine hits while going the distance for the second time. Singles by Donn Clendenon, Johnny Logan and Bill Mazaroski nipped O'Dell for a run in the second and Clendenon's ninth-inning homer ended the Pirates' production for the night.

The Giants put it away in the second with three runs on singles by Felipe Alou, Jose Pagan and Jim Davenport, a wild pitch, a passed ball and an error. Orlando Cepeda wound up the Giants scoring the next inning with his seventh homer, off Bob Veale (1-2).

Camilli's single in the last inning that could have been played—the league rule would have had play after the stanza—followed a walk by pinch hitter Daryl Spencer, a single by Willie Davis and an attempted sacrifice by Andy Carey that failed. Ed Reebuck (1-0) got the victory and Glen Hobbie (0-4) took the loss.

The Cubs tied it in the eighth on a two-base error by Davis and George Altman's single, and went ahead in the 11th with two runs on singles by Andre Rodgers, Moe Thacker and Ken Hubbs. The Dodgers came back to tie on Wally Moon's two-run single before Jim Gilliam was cut down trying to steal home for the winning run.

The Cardinals won their fifth in the last six games by chasing "Colts" starter Dean Stone (2-1) with a five-run outburst in the first inning. Stone, who had won his two previous games by shutouts, caused his own downfall by walking three, Ken Boyer, Gene Oliver, Charley James and Julio Gotay each drove in one run with Minnie Mingo scoring on Boyer's hit as Ray Pendleton threw wild. Ray Washburn (2-0) won it with Ed Rault's relief.

Joey Jay (3-3) scattered eight hits—including Frank Thomas' seventh homer—and supported his own pitching with a three-run

Tech Registers Track Victory

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas Tech scored 57½ points here Tuesday to take a triangular track meet from Arkansas A&M and Henderson State College.

Henderson tallied 55½ points and A&M trailed with 51.

High scorer of the meet was Henderson's Ray Cheatham with 14½ points. He took first place in the 220 and 440-yard dashes, placed second in the 100-yard dash and was on the winning 440-yard relay team.

Flood Takes Advice, Leads All Batters

By IRWIN FRANK

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Curt Flood took the advice of his batting coach, who told him to quit trying for home runs, and now finds himself the top batsman in the National League.

The 24-year-old St. Louis Cardinal center fielder leads the league with a .418 average. He's had 28 hits in 7 at bats, including four doubles, two triples and two home runs.

"It's taken me a year to get the full benefit of the change in my swinging pattern," the right hander said.

"George Crowe (former Cardinals coach) told me late last season to use a shorter swing. I'm not a power hitter, all I'm trying to do is get some good wood on the ball."

Card Manager Johnny Keane says the shorter swing allows Flood to hit line drives and grounders through the infield, rather than long flies to the outfield.

"He's got the speed to beat out some of those ground balls and he can stretch a single through the infield into a double," Keane said.

Doubleheader Won by Tech

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas Tech took both games of a baseball doubleheader from Fort Smith Junior College here Tuesday.

The Wonderboys won the opener 3-2 behind the accurate pitching of Wilford Rose, who allowed only three hits and got eight strikeouts.

In the nighttime Kenny Saylor struck out 11 men, but walked 10. Tech scored six runs in the bottom of the fifth.

homer. The Reds put it away against former teammate Jay Hook (1-1) with consecutive singles by Vada Pinson, Frank Robinson, Gordy Coleman and Wally Post plus John Edwards' double accounting for four runs in the fourth inning.

Sanford Hot, Yankees Keep on Winning

By JIM MACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

There was a touch of crowd-pleasing excitement for spice—a rare bid for a two-man no-hitter. New York's front running Yankees didn't quite pull it off, but they did overwhelm their closest pursuers, as is their style, and gained another length in the American League race.

Bill Stafford and Roland Sheldon staged the drama Tuesday night, holding the Chicago White Sox without a hit for eight innings. The spell was broken when Sheldon was nicked for a run in the ninth but Marshall (The Sheriff) Bridges put on the workmanlike flourish by quelling the mild Chicago threat.

The three-man two-hitter resulted in a 6-1 Yankee victory, their sixth in a row, and stretched their AL lead to 1½ games. Chicago fell into third, 21 percentage points behind the Detroit Tigers.

Vic Wertz delivered for the fourth straight time as a pinch hitter and gave Detroit a 3-2 decision over the Kansas City Athletics. Washington ended its 13-game losing string, nipping Boston 2-1 on Pete Burnside's four-hit pitching. Leon Wagner took over as the majors' hottest home run hitter as Los Angeles topped Cleveland 8-6. Camilo Pascual's Maizone's single. Bob Johnson's double and Dale Long's produced over Baltimore 8-3. In the National League, the tying run for Washington in pace-setting San Francisco Giants downed the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-2. Los Angeles shaded Chicago 6-5 in a 16-inning affair lasting hours and 6 minutes, the St. Louis Cardinals trimmed the Houston Colts 6-4 and the Cincinnati Reds beat the New York Mets 8-2. Milwaukee at Philadelphia was postponed due to cold and wet grounds.

Stafford (2-2) turned away the White Sox without a semblance of a hit through five innings, then retired with a sore hip. Sheldon kept the string going until Nellie Fox opened up the last of the ninth with a sharp single up the middle. Joe Cunningham drew a walk and Floyd Robinson rapped a double to right, chasing in the lone Chicago run and bringing in the hard-throwing Bridges from the bullpen.

With the help of two errors, the Yanks built up a 4-0 lead on losing lefty Juan Pizarro (2-2) before Elston Howard slugged a two-run homer in the ninth against Herb Score. Bobby Richardson, who has hit in all 16 games this year, collected two singles in the Yankees' 10-hit offense. Roger Maris had a single for the 13th hit in his last 24 at bats.

Wertz settled the issue between unbeaten right handers Jim Bunning and Jerry Walker with his bases-filled, two-out pinch single in the top of the 10th at Kansas City. Bunning (3-2) was touched for seven hits, including Jerry Lumpe's homer in the last of the 10th. The Tigers got 10 off Walker (3-1) one of them Al Kaline's sixth homer.

Burnside, who now has two of Washington's three victories, shut out the Red Sox after they got their run in the first on Pete Runnels' double, a sacrifice and Frank Johnson's single. Bob Johnson's double and Dale Long's produced the tying run for Washington in the fourth and the Senators got the winner in the eighth on Jimmy Piersall's double, a passed ball and Jim King's sacrifice fly. King got a second life when Jim Pagan dropped his foul pop behind the plate.

Wagner, on a home run-or-nothing kick, connected his first two times up against Cleveland, with two on in the first against loser Sam McDowell (1-1), and with the bases empty in the second against Frank Funk. The rangy Angels' outfielder muscled into the big league homer leadership with a total of eight, yielding six of them in his last seven games.

The Angels' unbeaten rookie, Bo Belinsky, won his third in a row as the first of four Los Angeles pitchers. Cleveland used six.

Pascual (4-1) turned in his fourth complete game with a nine-hitter, whacked a tie-breaking, two-run homer and also chipped in with a single in the Twins' victory over the Orioles. Pascual's homer, his second in the majors, climaxed Minnesota's three-run second inning against Chuck Estrada (1-3).
